

Customer Journey Map

Date	29/09/2026
Team ID	UNM1425EduGenie
Project Name	EduGenie
Maximum Marks	4 Marks

STAGE 1 – IDENTIFY LEARNING NEED

Actions – What does the customer do?

- Identifies a topic or concept they want to learn.
- Opens the EduGenie web application.
- Selects the required learning activity.

Touchpoint – What part of the service do they interact with?

- EduGenie web interface
- Learning activity selection
- Topic/input field

Customer Thought – What is the customer thinking?

- “I need help understanding this topic.”
- “I want a simple explanation.”

Customer Feeling – What is the customer feeling?

- Confused about the topic.
- Motivated to learn.

STAGE 2 – ENTER AND GENERATE

Actions – What does the customer do?

- Enters a question, topic, or educational content.
- Selects the appropriate learning level.
- Clicks the Generate button.

Touchpoint – What part of the service do they interact with?

- Input field
- Learning-level selection
- Generate button

Customer Thought – What is the customer thinking?

- “Will the explanation match my learning level?”
- “I want an immediate and clear answer.”

Customer Feeling – What is the customer feeling?

- Curious about the result.
- Hopeful about understanding the topic.

STAGE 3 – RECEIVE AND LEARN

Actions – What does the customer do?

- Reads the AI-generated response.
- Uses the explanation, quiz, summary, or recommendation.
- Copies the result for later revision if required.

Touchpoint – What part of the service do they interact with?

- Generated result section
- AI-generated educational content
- Copy option

Customer Thought – What is the customer thinking?

- “This explanation helps me understand the topic.”
- “I can use this for revision and practice.”

Customer Feeling – What is the customer feeling?

- More confident about the topic.
- Engaged with the learning process.

PROCESS OWNERSHIP

Stage 1: Student / Learner

Stage 2: EduGenie Web Interface and Backend

Stage 3: EduGenie AI Learning System

OPPORTUNITIES FOR IMPROVEMENT

- Provide more personalized explanations based on student progress.
- Add multilingual learning support and voice interaction.
- Add student profiles, progress tracking, and saved learning content.